Important to Moreover.—The commissioners of the northern light-houses have given notice that lights were established on the 10th inst in five new light-houses on the west coast of Scotland, at Usheniah, (southwest.) Rona, Kyleakin, Isle Oronsey, and Sound of Mull.

These commissioners have further given notice that, under a warrant by her Majesty in council, dated the 27th day of August last, the following toils have become liable on and after the 10th inst.: For every British vessel, and for every foreign vessel privileged to enter the ports of the United Kingdom upon paying the same duties as are payable by British vessels, which may pass or derive benefit from each of the said lights, the toil of eight-sixteenths of a penny per ton of the burden of every such vessel, for every time of passing or deriving benefit therefrom if on an over-sea voyage, and one-sixteenth of a penny per ton for each time of passing or deriving benefit therefrom if on a coasting voyage, and for every foreign vessel not privileged in manner before mentioned double the amount of the respector each of the said light-houses are to be levied by the commissioners of northern light-houses, subject to the abstement or discount of 25 per cent. on vessels engaged in over-sea voyages, and of 10 per cent. on vessels engaged in over-sea voyages, provided for by an order in subject also to the regulations and exemptions contained in the consolidated tables of light duties sanctioned by

We find the following sound views in the mo article of the Journal of Commerce of the 19th inst It comes from a good source, and is worthy of atten-

"There has been very much discussion in regard to the currency question; but all that we have so far seen has only served to strengthen our conviction that specie is the only proper basis for bank-notes, and that the precious metals themselves should form the bulk of the circulation among small dealers. The great objection to an exclusive specie currency, and the only one which cannot ultimately be removed by an increased supply of the precious metals, is its cumbersome character, and the actual loss by abrasion. For this reason important transactions will never be conducted through an actual transfer of coin where its representative will answer the purpose of psyment. There cannot well be a perfect representaive, however, that is not convertible into coin, and therefore we look for the time when nothing shall be received as currency except coin, or a certificate of its acceived as currency except coin, or a certificate of its ac-tual deposite to meet its representative when the holder shall desire the exchange. The first step towards this, and the one now advocated by many sound political economists, would be the abolition of all small notes."

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES AND JUDGE J. J. GILCHRIST.

The judicial circuit heretofore so ably represented on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States by Mr. Justice Curtis is looking with much anxiety to the appointment of his successor. In this feeling all parts of the country, to a greater or less extent, sympathize; for the appointment in itself is the most important the President can be called upon to make, whether regard be had to the tenure of the office or the high functions embraced by its jurisdiction.

Among the distinguished names which have been associated with this appointment is that of Judge J. J. Gilchrist, of New Hampshire. This gentleman for many years occupied the highest judicial position in his native State, and as chief justice of her supreme court fully justified the high reputation which he had acquired at the har. He now presides as Chief Justice of the United States Court of Chains.

Court of Claims.

In the enjoyment of vigorous health, not too old to improve, Judge Gilchrist unites to much judicial learning the attainments of literature and the tastes of a scholar. In politics he is by inheritance and choice a democrat, in that true conservative sense which forbids the exercise of all doubtful powers by the government, which upholds as the essential feature of our system the list examility of the States and decourses like francount. just equality of the States, and denounces like treason all attempts to disturb the rights of citizens of slaveholding states, either by interposition of State legislatures or non-slaveholding communities, or by individual agitation addressed either to the fears of the master or the passions of the slave. Upon this delicate question his course has been so consistent that he needs no resort to coarse has been so consistent that he needs no resort to change of opinion, and no includence in ultraism, to make him acceptable to all who prefer the Union as framed by our fathers to the sectionalism and false phi-inthropy of some of their degenerate sons. As early as 1836, while a member of the New Hampshire legislature, less, while a member of the New Hampshire legislature, see introduced a series of resolutions, accompanied by an able report, which, with the angacity of true statesmanship, met the abolition issues of that day not with palliatives and expedients, but with sound political principles tokily advanced and plainly expressed.

Possessed of such qualifications, and intending no disparagement to other distinguished gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in convexion, with this sub-

**BONETARY AFFARS.**

The London Times says that Dennistoun Company are one of the largest firms connected with the American trade, and their liabilities, it is supposed, arount to ten millions of dollars. They have houses in New York and New Orleans, and the total suspension of remittances from those cities rendered their stoppage unavoidable. The head establishment is located in Glasgow, where it has existed for upwards of seventy years, with branches also in Liverpool and London. The private property of the partners is immense, and it is believed the suspension will only be temporary. The house of Dennistoun Brothers & Co., in Melbourne, is a distinct establishment, and will not suffer.

B. F. Babcock & Co., with houses in Liverpool, Glasgow, and New York, have failed for a million and a half of dollars. Joseph Foot & Son, silk manufacturers in London, and Henry Dutith & Co., in the American trade at Liverpool, have also suspended.

The South British Mail thus alludes to the panic in Glasgow: "The monetary panic caused by the absence of the Mail thus believed the suspension of the Men and the later.

The South British Mail thus alludes to the panic Glasgow: "The monetary panic caused by the suspensis of the Western Bank still continues, and a rush has be going on during the forenoon on the several banks of ticity. The panic seems to have taken special hold of timal depositors and depositors in savings banks. The principal crush was at the doors of the Union Bank, the City Bank, and the National Security Savings Bank."

The Lord Provost and magistrates early in the aften noon deemed it prudent to publish a proclamation, states that no doubts need be entertained as to the sevency of the savings banks, and warms the public again the effects of a sudden run on the banks. In the su urbs the run on the branch esstablishments is treme dous.

the effects of a sudden run on the banks. In the suburbs the run on the branch establishments is tremendous.

The following is the announcement of the suspension of the Western Bank of Scotland:

"Grassow, Nov. 9.—The Western Bank of Scotland suspended payment at two o'clock, at which hour the doors of the head office and branches were closed."

Although to some extent looked for, the suspension caused great dismay. The bank did an immense business in Glasgow, and had about one hundred branches scattered over Scotland. Its deposites were very large, amounting to between five and six millions sterling. There cannot be any eventual loss, as the proprietary contains many of the wealthiest men in Scotland, some of whom are believed to be worth a million sterling.

The London Sun announces the failure of Broadway & Barclay, in the East India trade, and Bennoch & Rigg, of London and Manchester.

The Times's article of Tuesday evening says: The funds have shown absolute buoyancy to-day, and closed at a further considerable advance. In mercantile quarters, also, there has perhaps been rather less uneasiness, and the tendency to a partial recovery of confidence would have been stronger but for the manifestation of banking distrusts at Glasgow in consequence of the closing of the Western Bank of Scotland.

The manager of the latter concern issued a circular announcing the stoppage, in which he admits that for some years past, under the late manager, the system of overtrading had been carried on through facilities afforded by the system of rediscounting. Reckless credits were given to customers in Glasgow, and the correspondent at New York was allowed to make advances on securities and to draw bills on the bank. Lately, an investigation being instituted into some of the largest advance accounts, it was found that the houses to which they had been made were utterly insolvent, and that a large loss to the bank as the American panic came on at the same time, deposites were utterly insolvent, and that a large loss to the bank began to be withdrawn; and, finally, when the hou pressure arrived, the usual result is witnessed; and it in London, who had hitherto promoted the financial tem of the concern, suddenly found it expedient to continue the rediscounts on which it had relied.

The Paris Patrie urges the suspension of specie ments in that country. It is regarded as certain that government will be compelled to adopt some strin measures. French finance is not, however, of a che ter to justify the gloomy apprehensions which see nevail in commercial circles. The specie reserve or prevail in commercial circles. The specie reserve of the Bank of France is two hundred millions against one hun-dred and fifty millions at the corresponding period of ast year.

A Hamburg letter of the 7th reports a regular panic ir

A Hamburg letter of the 7th reports a regular panic in the stock exchange there, with a fall of every description of stock, as also all bills of exchange. Bills on France, Belgium, and other commercial marts in Germany and England, were unsalable at the usual three-months date. A financial crisis was also beginning in Sweden and Norway, and money was becoming scarce.

The London Herald, speaking of the advance in the rate of interest, says: "The increase was not unexpected, and hence when it was officially announced, it created little fluctuation in public securities, The range in price was about 5-6 per cent., but after varying to that extent they recovered, and closed only | lower than on Saturday. The American advices by the Asia were calculated to inspire partial confidence, but the recurrence of mercantile disasters here and in the provinces produced great depression, no relief from the existing stringency being apparently obtainable."

Paris, Wednesday morning.—The Moniteur publishes a notification from the Emperor upon a report from the Minister of Finance, in which he says he sees with pain the imperilled and chimerical fears propagated, and the delusive remedies proposed for an imaginary evil. The law permitting the bank to raise the rate of discount must suffice to keep the bullion in better condition than last year. The bank has raised the rate of discount 8 per cent. for bills under thirty days, 9 for bills under sixty days, and 10 for bills under ninety days.

LONDON, Wednesday morning.—The following telegram was received this morning at the Foreign Office: "Delhi, which fell into our hands on the 20th of September, was entirely occupied on the 21st, and the whole of the enmy expelled. In the assault of the 14th sixty-one officers and eleven hundred and seventy-eight men, being one-third of the storming service, were killed and wounded."

one-third of the storming service, were array and wounded."

General Nicholson died from his wounds on the 21st. The old king, said to be ninety years of age, surrendered to Capt. Hodgson about fitteen miles south of Delhi. He was accompanied by his chief wife, and their lives were spared. Two of his sons and his grandson were also captured by Capt. Hodgson about five miles from Delhi They were shot on the spot.

Two movable columns were despatched from Delhi on the 23d in pursuit of the enemy. By accounts from Agra one column appears to have reached the neighborhood of Allyhar, and the other that of Muttra on the 28th September.

Possessed of such qualifications, and intending no dis-paragement to other distinguished gentlemen whose sames have been mentioned in connexion with this sub-ject, I think I may safely say that the nomination of Judge Gilchrist is not only one fit to be made, but is one that would be received with satisfaction by all sections of the country, and more particularly so by the members of the ountry, and more particularly so by the members of the bar and the citizens of his own circuit.

THE CITY COUNCILS LAST NAME. - A bill passed

The City Councils Last Name. A bill passed both boards authorizing the mayor to offer a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for the apprehension and conviction of the person that shot and hilled Michael Marphy on Saturday night; and a like reward for the apprehension and conviction of the person that shot Officer David Harrover on the same night.

In the board of common council a joint resolution was passed appointing delegates to represent the city in the convention to be held in the city on the subject of railroads and mail transportation on the first Monday of January next, and also in the preliminary meeting to be held on Tuesday, the first day of December. This resolution also authorizes the mayor to tender to the convention the use of the common council room.

In the same board the following bill was reported from the committee on ways and means and passed:

An act to authorize a loan for certain purposes.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the mayor be, and he is hereby, authorized to anticipate from time to time the revenue of the corporation for the year 185% to an amount not exceeding forty-two thousand dollars, by a loan at the rate of interest of six per cent. per annum, on notes of the corporation to pay the interest due December 31, 1857, on the funded and canal debts of the city, and to meet the stipulated monthly payments required to continue the construction of the new alma-house.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That the interest on the sum hereby authorized to be anticipated be paid out of the general fund.

The text chosen by the distinguished divine was appropriate to such an occasion, and was followed by a discourse which fully sustained the high character of the eminent preacher. The collection was quite large, and will prove a boon of mercy to the destinate overhome and their pions and charitable projectors.

PLANT TREES.—We are pleased to see preparations made along Pennsylvania avenue to plant shade trees where others have died or have been destroyed. This example on the part of government should be followed by owners of real estate abutting on the streets of our meropolis where there are no trees. Why not organize a 'tree-planting society' in each ward, or memorialize Congress to pass a county law like that of Rhode Island, Congress to pass a county law like that of knode Island, which pays twenty-five cents for every tree over twenty-five that may be planted on the highway by any single individual. Many of our citizens can now enjoy the shade of trees which they have planted, and which will long remain as monuments to their memories. Let their examples be followed.
